Forensic Nursing: Caring for Victims of Trauma, Violence & Intentional Injuries

Forensic nursing has become the fastest growing specialty within nursing.

Dr. Pamela D. Tabor, DNP-Forensics, AFN-BC and Lauren Wegener, BSN, RN, Forensic MSN-student, are the highly qualified experts selected for this intensive training. They know all too well that across various nursing roles, specialties and settings...you are seeing victims of trauma, violence, intentional/unintentional injuries, and death.

Advance your practice as you synthesize crimes involving patients, including forensic case studies and photographs. This practice changing event will provide resources and tools to learn from: evidence collection kits, body maps/diagrams, bite mark rulers, alternative light sources and a shaken infant model to demonstrate traumatic injuries.

Explore fascinating charting examples that delve into very difficult clinical scenarios: drug facilitated sexual assault, strangulation, intimate partner violence, human trafficking and infant death investigation.

Our patients require and deserve compassionate, devoted, and well-trained forensic nurses to avoid re-victimization - and to begin the healing process. Imagine if you had that superpower!

OBJECTIVES

1. Analyze case studies to identify and interrupt healthcare serial killers.
2. Develop a critical plan for the medicolegal professional to testify as an expert witness.
3. Evaluate how to thoroughly address infanticide, abusive head trauma and sudden unexplained infant death investigation.
4. Create a stalking case through patient interview and utilization of SHARP.
5. Differentiate clinical relevance between intentional and unintentional injuries.
6. Apply evidence-based strategies to assess intimate partner violence and case file construction.
7. Determine how to assess and document child maltreatment with body maps.
8. Appraise elder abuse patterns and necessary steps to work with an ombudsman.
9. Design an evidence-based sexual assault program, including supported tools and forms.
10. Construct a human trafficking case to collaborate with local police and the FBI.
11. Develop nurse coroner skills to perform death investigations using evidence-based documentation and photography.
12. Construct an assessment and treatment plan for victims of strangulation.
13. Apply forensic photodocumentation approaches to prove and preserve critical patient findings.
