A NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION CONNECTING KNOWLEDGE WITH NEED SINCE 1979

3-DAY Functional Nutrition CERTIFICATION

It can be intimidating when patients start asking you for guidance on nutrition. You may find yourself asking, "I'm not a dietitian. What kind of advice can I offer within my scope of practice?"

Plus, with so much misinformation out there, how do you navigate what's right and what's not? You deserve evidence-based information that clears the confusion and helps you help your patients.

Join us as we break down today's best nutrition science into strategies that are simple to share and easy to apply in the real world. You'll learn safe, effective, and affordable evidence-based nutrition approaches that will help your patients achieve optimal health and wellness while preventing and treating common medical conditions:

- Which diet plan is best?
- Which supplements are most important?
- What is the impact of gut health?
- What are specific tactics to use for diabetes, hypothyroidism, depression, insomnia, chronic pain, autoimmunity, and others?

Help your patients expertly navigate diet culture and achieve their goals. We've helped thousands of professionals just like you become a trusted resource - don't miss this opportunity to learn life changing strategies for nutritional program design.

Best of all, you'll be eligible to become a Certified Functional Nutrition Informed Professional (CFNIP) through Evergreen Certifications, a $99 value, for no additional charge!

Don't wait, register today!

- Cindi Lockhart, RDN, LD, IFNCP and Vanessa Ruiz, ND, RN-BSN

Meet Your Experts

Cindi Lockhart, RDN, LD, IFNCP, is board-certified as an integrative and functional nutrition practitioner with over 30 years in professional practice. She has trained nutrition, fitness, and medical practitioners throughout most of her career, yet maintains a personal practice with clients/patients as she believes that the only way she can effectively educate and inspire other practitioners is through her own practical experience with clients. In addition to educating on how food is medicine, Cindi also specializes in coaching clients and practitioners on the importance of managing stress, optimizing sleep, proper exercise and movement, and reducing exposure to environmental toxins. Cindi has extensive expertise in women's health issues, thyroid dysfunction, immunity and gut health.
